Letter from the President

Feb 2025

Fraters,

The 2025 Delta Nu Alumni Association (DNAA) Annual Meeting highlighted significant achievements, financial updates, and future plans. The organization was honored as the Top Alumni Association among 140 Tau Kappa Epsilon (TKE) alumni chapters worldwide, recognizing the contributions of its members. The meeting agenda included reports from various committees, including finance, scholarship, property management, and social planning, demonstrating the association's commitment to fostering leadership and community support.

Key financial updates were presented, showcasing a stable balance sheet with a breakdown of budget allocations for 2025. The Capital Improvements Fund, supported by donations and fundraising events, will finance projects such as brick tuckpointing for the chapter house. Membership growth was also a focal point, with an increase in active members and a plan to recruit more alumni, especially recent graduates. The Triangle Award was presented to distinguished members for their contributions, reinforcing the spirit of lifelong brotherhood.

Looking ahead, the DNAA outlined an active social calendar, including 2 golf tournaments, a summer cookout, regional gatherings, and a homecoming event aimed at engaging different generations of alumni. A moment of silence was held for members lost in 2024, underscoring the fraternity's deep bonds. The meeting concluded with the passing of the gavel, symbolizing leadership transition and the continuation of DNAA's legacy.

Yours in the Bond,
Bob Noren

Final Thoughts 2025

Brotherhood is more than just a word—it's a lifelong bond built on trust, loyalty, and shared experiences. It means having a group of men who support you through the highs and lows, push you to be your best, and stand by you no matter what.

Brotherhood is about accountability, respect, and a commitment to something bigger than yourself. It's late-night conversations, celebrating victories together, and picking each other up after failures. It's a family you choose, one that lasts far beyond your college years.

For me, given my deep involvement in alumni engagement, philanthropy, and chapter support, brotherhood means continuing that legacy—mentoring younger members, preserving traditions, and ensuring that future generations experience the same lifelong benefits.

Brotherhood isn't just about the present; it's about leaving something greater behind.

YITB,
Brad Shelton
